State offers several student aid programs

Alabama students headed to college have several state financial aid programs for which they may be eligible.

The Alabama Commission on Higher Education (ACHE) administers four programs that can help Alabamians pay for college. They include the Alabama Student Assistance Program Grant, which provides up to $2,500 to needy undergraduate students attending eligible Alabama colleges. The Alabama Student Grant is a similar program that offers smaller grants for students attending certain private colleges in the state.

The third ACHE program provides educational assistance to the dependent or spouse of a police officer or firefighter killed or permanently disabled in the line of duty in Alabama. It's for undergraduates attending a public Alabama college. The fourth ACHE program provides tuition grants to members of the Alabama National Guard. It provides assistance at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Other programs, offered by Alabama's two-year colleges, include academic, athletic and performing arts scholarships. There's also a scholarship for Alabamians age 60 and older who want to take classes at two-year schools.

Other state agencies also provide help to Alabama residents. The Alabama Department of Education administers the Robert C. Byrd Scholarship, which provides up to $1,500 per year for four years. It's based on ACT/SAT scores and high school academic record. Byrd Scholarships don't have to be used in Alabama.

The Alabama Department of Rehabilitation offers a scholarship for the dependents of blind parents. It covers the cost of textbooks. And Alabamians who are members of a federally recognized Indian tribe may be eligible for a scholarship from the Alabama Indian Affairs Commission. State aid is also available to children and spouses of veterans through the Alabama Department of Veterans Affairs.

The state treasurer's office offers the Alabama Higher Education 529 Fund, which lets families save for college expenses, and the Prepaid Affordable College Tuition (PACT) program, which lets parents and others prepay four years of college tuition.

Elba BOE renews 3-year contract for Superintendent Danny Weeks

by Ferrin Cox, Publisher

The Elba City School Board met in special session on Friday afternoon, May 19th. The main purpose of the called meeting was to consider a committee recommendation on extending the contract of Superintendent Danny Weeks.

Weeks reminded board members at the regular monthly meeting earlier in the month that his three year contract would expire in June.

The board heard the committee report of Josh Wilson, Katrina Calhoun and Bill Brunson which recommended renewing the three year contract with Weeks as superintendent.

Wilson reported he contacted the State Association of School Boards for copies of contracts and a schedule of salaries of school systems similar to Elba's.

The new contract contains some modifications of the former contract with Weeks and does include a $2,000 annual pay raise. Weeks had said earlier he liked the job and would rather additional money stay in the school system for the benefit of staff and the needs of the students.

Weeks began his career in the Elba school system in 1992, as an assistant coach with Elba coaching legend Mack Wood, serving as coach and assistant principal and later as high school principal. In 1993, he was named head basketball coach and has served as superintendent for the past six years.

After the board had approved the contract and it had been signed by both Chairman Bill Brunson and Superintendent Weeks, Wilson said, "I am confident it is a good contract both for the Board and for Mr. Weeks."

One addition to the contract calls for annual evaluations of Week's performance in addition to the evaluations required by the State Board of Education. Weeks will continue to be eligible for any percentage pay raises approved by the Alabama Legislature.

In other business the board approved naming former band director Jeff Ellis as the new technology coordinator, filling the position left empty with the recent death of David Stokes. Work began immediately to find a new band director.

The board also approved the advertising of jobs to fill potential staff vacancies in both administrative positions and secondary teachers.

Minor budget amendments were approved upon the recommendation of the superintendent.

Elba City Council votes to vacate Dunham Street

by Ferrin Cox, Publisher

The Elba City Council approved the vacating of Dunham Street Monday night.

The street, across from Dorsey Trailers - connecting Hickman Avenue and Martin L. King Drive, will be barricaded on each side of the old Beaver Dam Creek bed and 300 feet of the road removed (150 foot easement each side of the centerline of the old creek bed. This is part of the project to improve the heavy rain water storage capacity for the two drainage pumps draining the downtown area. The pumps are located between Putnam and the levee.

City Clerk Wayne Grantham reported city crews are busy cutting grass and were making headway on the project. He also noted that demolition of the old school is moving smoothly, and

"Dining for Signs" raises funds for welcome signs

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Elba Chamber of Commerce hosted "Dining for Signs" last Thursday evening, May 18, at the Recreation Center in Elba, and the large crowd was an indication of a successful event.

"It was a great turnout," said Kaye Whitworth, executive director of the Elba Chamber of Commerce. "Everyone seemed to enjoy the event, and there were lots of beautiful tables and unique ideas."

"Dining for Signs" is a fund raising event designed to generate funds to cover the cost of construction of lighted, brick welcome signs placed at the major entrances into Elba. The first "Dining for Signs" event sponsored by the chamber in 2004 allowed for a sign to be constructed at the Alabama Highway 87 (Troy Highway) entrance way.

During last Thursday evening's event, Doris Matthews, current president of the Elba Chamber of Commerce board of directors, said the first "Dining for Signs" event not only paid for the construction of the Hwy. 87 sign, but enough funds were raised to leave approximately $1,500 in the project account. She said committee members hoped to raise enough funds with last week's "Dining for Signs" to pay for the construction of a new sign along the U.S. Highway 84 E. entrance way near National Security.

Approximately 275 people attended the event which featured a catered meal, as well as, a live and silent auction, entertainment by the Elba High School FFA Quartet and, of course, the individually decorated tables.

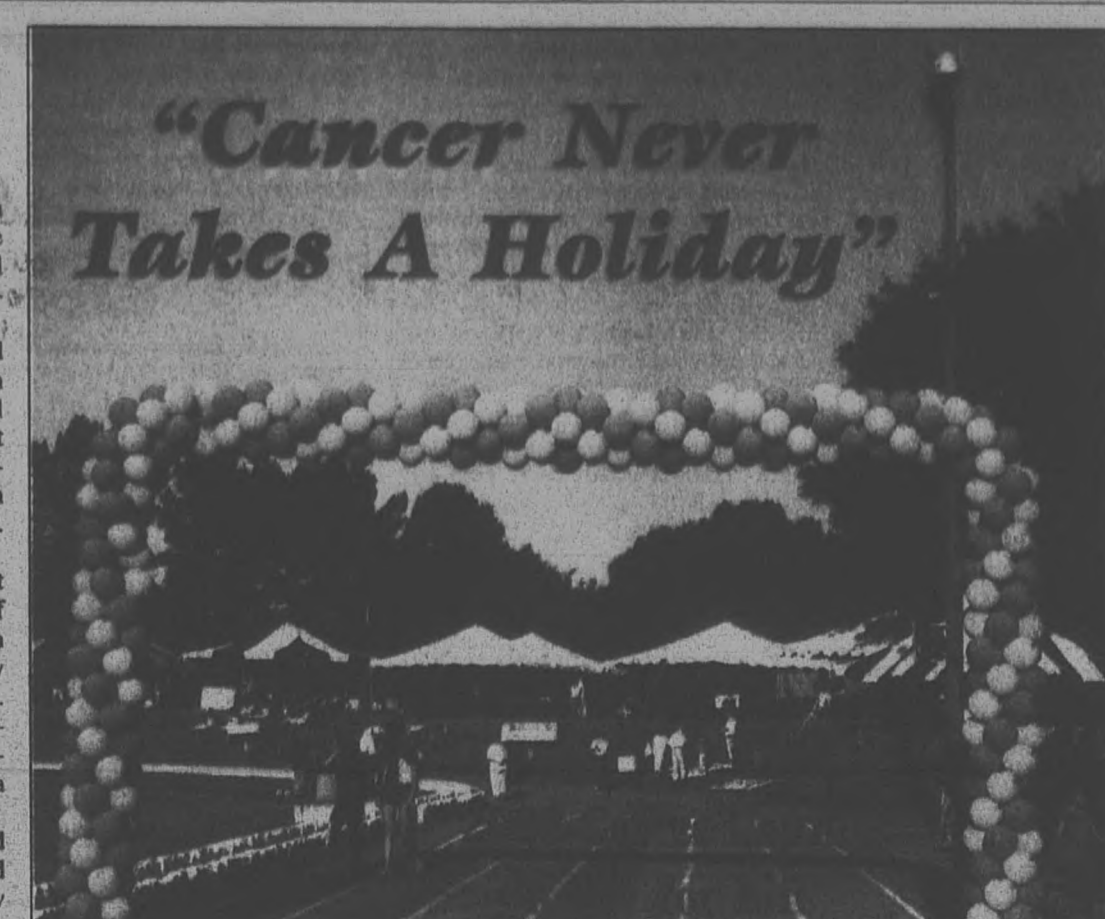

"We really need to thank those who donated items for the auction," Whitworth said. "There were lots of great items, and the auction was big part of our fund raising efforts."

After expenses, she said it looks as though the profit from the event will be around $7,000 which will certainly pay for the construction of the city's second new welcome sign.

"The chamber appreciates the cooperation of the citizens of Elba to make this happen," Whitworth said. "It's a really great event, and we will be planning another sometime in the future."

EDDIE AND MELINDA VAUGHAN were among the approximately 275 people attending last Thursday evening's "Dining for Signs" event. The couple sat at a table sponsored by gubernatorial candidate Lucy Baxley. There were 34 sponsored tables with each uniquely decorated by the sponsor. Many people enjoyed walking around looking at the different table designs ranging from "Bob the Builder" dinnerware and beach themes to elegant floral designs and political themes. While no two tables were alike, everyone did seem to agree on one thing... "Dining for Signs" was loads of fun.

COFFEE COUNTY RESIDENTS dedicated to raising funds to assist the American Cancer Society in its efforts to find a cure for cancer were on the Enterprise-Ozark Community College track last Friday, May 19, for the annual Coffee County Relay for Life event. The first lap of this year's event was completed by more than 300 cancer survivors. The day began early Friday for those survivors as many met at the First Baptist Church of Enterprise fellowship hall for a Survivor's Breakfast. The Coffee County Relay for Life began in 1992 and has raised more than $2 million since that time to assist in the fight against cancer. The event is held annually in May. While walking is the task at hand during the Relay, the luminary ceremony continues to be a large part of the event. Luminaries were placed around the track during the day Friday by Fort Rucker's 1st Aviation Battalion, 212th Aviation Regiment and Relay for Life committee members. Shortly after dark Friday evening, the luminaries were lit in honor of those currently battling or survivors of cancer, as well as, in memory of those who lost their battle to the deadly disease. For those who attended this year's event, it again proved to be an enjoyable and worthwhile venture. Additional scenes from the Relay can be found on Page 16.

During Coffee County Commission meeting

Commissioners take step to collect old debt for county

by Linda Hodge, Editor

A concerned citizen presented an animal control issue to Coffee County Commissioners Monday morning, May 22, during the group's regular bimonthly meeting.

Sherry Perdue, a District One resident, said a neighbor moved away several months ago leaving several dogs behind. Since that time, she said she has expressed concern that the animals are starving. Also, she said she is concerned the animals will start attacking other animals and children due to the situation.

Perdue said she spoke with the animal control officer for the City of Elba, and he was very nice. She said he said he would help, but he can not come out and get the dogs because it is out of the city's jurisdiction.

However, she said the control officer said they could bring the dogs to the Elba pound if someone could catch them.

Commissioner Westbrook said she and Perdue had discussed this problem, and she told her the county does have cages available if the dogs were caught. Also, she said the county has an agreement with the City of Elba for stray animals to be brought to that pound.

Perdue, however, said unfortunately not all the dogs can be captured.

When asked, county administrator Wilson Mobley said the county currently is doing what is required by law in regards to animal control.

Perdue said she has spoken with District One Commissioner Linda Westbrook, officials with the Coffee County Sheriff's Department, the animal control officer for the City of Elba and Senator Jimmy Holley.

"I believe Coffee County should supply some way of helping us," said Perdue. "My problem is that we can't get any help, and I believe we should have the opportunity to get some help with these dogs."

Perdue said she spoke with the animal control officer for the City of Elba, and he was very nice. She said he said he would help, but he can not come out and get the dogs because it is out of the city's jurisdiction.

However, she said the control officer said they could bring the dogs to the Elba pound if someone could catch them.

Commissioner Westbrook said she and Perdue had discussed this problem, and she told her the county does have cages available if the dogs were caught. Also, she said the county has an agreement with the City of Elba for stray animals to be brought to that pound.

Perdue, however, said unfortunately not all the dogs can be captured.

When asked, county administrator Wilson Mobley said the county currently is doing what is required by law in regards to animal control.

Westbrook thanked Perdue for bringing this issue to the commission, and she said it is something commissioners need to look at during a work session.

Mobley asked commissioners for permission to enter into agreement with RCM of Dothan, a collection agency, to collect old debt for Coffee County.

Perdue said she suggested the county start with old solid waste collection service debt.

Over the years, Mobley said the old account debt has accumulated and now is at nearly $100,000. In many cases, he said the debtors with these old accounts have moved leaving no forwarding address.

Commissioner Westbrook made a motion with a second from Commissioner Bernest Brooks that the county enter into agreement with RCM of Dothan to try and collect the money owed on these accounts.

Also, the motion called for the county to send a letter to active past due accounts letting the debtor know he/she has 30-days to either settle the debt or make some sort of arrangement to settle.

Grimley said the county can have lower rates if it has a higher percentage of collection on the garbage account, and it will be picked up from the residence at that time.

"We need to be very aggressive about this collection of debt," Commissioner Linda Westbrook said. "It could help reduce the price for our collection service."

Westbrook said, "It could help reduce the price for our collection service."

She said commissioners have been told the county's collection rate for solid waste accounts is at 93 percent. While this is good, she said the county needs everyone to pay.

Commissioner Tom Grimley said he agrees with Commissioner Westbrook that the county needs to be aggressive in collecting debt. He said the county will be setting solid waste collection service rates within the next few months, and he does not want the paying customers to have to make up the difference for those who do not pay accordingly.

Grimley said the county can have lower rates if it has a higher percentage of collection on

EDITORIAL

BRAINSTORMS
With Ferrin Cox

The Alabama primary election is just around the corner. While the campaign has been the quietest in the over 40 years we have set in this chair, it is heating up a little bit this week. Right now what is most frightening is that all we Alabama voters must make some critical decisions between today and June 6. Many people are looking at the two sample ballots, blue for Republican and white for Democrat, with that well known questioning look of "which way do I go?" Once that decision is made, there are the tough choices in individual races. Some races make us want a "none of the above" choice while in other situations there are two or more "good folks" vying for their respective party nomination. Before this time next week our personal decisions will be made. In fact we usually go all the way and voice opinions as if voting in each party's caucus. That will happen here next week. One thing is already evident . . . thankfully, That is the fact of being able to switch from party-to-party in the November General Election. Assuming all our favorites win during the June primary, November will be a breeze as we mark the Democrat as best for this job and the Republican the better candidate for that job. Alas, that will never happen. Our opinionated vote casting is considered a rip roaring success if in the 50% win column.

An update on "things" is in order. The dreamed of reopening of Dorsey Trailers is getting closer and closer. Mayor James Grimes reports the new owner was in town for a couple of days last week and will be back in early June. The money has changed hands and the lawyers are working on the final papers. Some clean up work is underway in and around the plant. The Alabama Highway Department battle with FEMA over U.S. 84 right of way is hopefully making progress. A verbal - and we stress verbal - report from Washington this week has finally given the clearance for the road work on the proposed route through Elba. Only a final stamp of approval by the FEMA legal department is needed to get the work underway. All the above is straight from the mouth of the highway department movers and shakers. The plans are to extend 203 Bypass across Pea River and join the existing highway at the eastern outskirts of town.

Strange things are happening in Washington . . . still. This week there are reports of a Congressman being filmed taking $100,000 in bribe money to influence some deal. The story is that they filmed this guy taking the cash from an FBI agent months ago. The report continues with details that all but $10,000 of the money was later found hidden in his home freezer. However he has not yet been arrested and is still voting in Congress. Two people described as associates have been sentenced. Now there is a terrible uproar from both Democrats and Republicans (This guy is from Louisiana and is a Democrat) after the FBI searched the congressman's Washington offices in recent days. The cry is "separation of powers" violations. While there are no instant comparisons in our mind to show it has been done before, neither have we ever heard anything about the constitution explaining that lawmakers' offices are sacred or hallowed ground completely immune from all U.S. laws. Gosh if that were true it would be the perfect place for the mob, potential bombers, hijackers, etc. to set up operations . . . and it could be done. Something that safe would tempt crooks to pay millions for the off-limits-to-the-FBI offices. Oh, and all utilities are paid by the taxpayers. Just put the crook on the legislative payroll as an aide and he/she would be home free.

Don't forget to buckle up this holiday weekend

by Linda Hodge, Editor

I'm definitely an advocate for wearing your seat belt. Most likely, I always will be.

For as long as I can remember, I've buckled up. There are even times when I'll get in the car just to move it in the yard, and before I realize it, I've got my seat belt buckled.

I know people have differing opinions about seat belts. Often times, I hear people say there are just as many deaths caused by wearing a seat belt as lives saved. I don't know if it's true or not, but I do know I will always believe my seat belt saved me from serious injury or even death the morning I had an accident.

It was Nov. 12, 1997, and I was on my way to class at Troy State. I remember it today just like it was yesterday.

I was only a few miles from home when I lost control and overturned. When the car came to a rest, everything that was loose inside the vehicle before the accident was now outside the vehicle. I sat in my seat just as I should have thanks to my seat belt.

So, I'll stick with the seat belts save lives opinion. After all, when you walk away with only minor injuries from an accident that has completely totaled your vehicle, there is reason to believe.

Another good reason to buckle that seat belt is a simple one...it's the law!

Many local law enforcement agencies have been involved recently and will be involved this Memorial Day weekend in the "Click It or Ticket" campaign. Officers are looking for people who break the law by not buckling their safety belt, and they will write/tickets for not buckling.

This has been evident in Elba the past couple of weeks as officers have really been enforcing the safety belt issue. During the week of May 15-21, Elba patrol officers issued 18 citations for not wearing a seat belt. The week before that, they issued 15 citations, and the week before that 13 citations.

Based on these numbers, I'd say it's pretty clear they are trying to get the point across.

Memorial Day weekend is the climax for this campaign, so, I encourage motorists to buckle up. It might save you from being issued a citation, or better yet, it just might save a life!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

This is a heart-broken person trying to write this letter to the public.

I visited my husband Earl L. Stinson's gravesite in the new part of the Elba Evergreen Cemetery on Sunday morning, May 21, 2006, to find both large pots of white and yellow daisies and white gladioli had been taken.

If this person liked these flowers so much, if they had asked me for them, I would have certainly given them freely and they wouldn't have had to remove them from my husband's grave. It's not the flowers being taken (even though they were not cheap), it's the idea of them being taken from this grave.

If I have mistreated a person in any way, and this is their way of revenge, please let me know what I have done, and I will try my best to make amends.

Now can you sleep at night, knowing you have stolen flowers from a grave???

Can you believe that it might come a time when we will have to put security cameras in an Elba cemetery? "May, God Forgive You," because I don't know if I can.

Signed,
Edna Sue Stinson

Citizens of Elba.

In the 1990s, our town fell on hard times when flood waters reeked havoc on our community. Where we have come from since those desperate times is unbelievable.

Many leaders have contributed to this turnaround, one of which is our Senator Jimmy Holley. Senator Holley helped spearhead an aggressive approach to the rebuilding of our town, and along the way, our spirit, too. I would like to take this opportunity to recognize a few of those accomplishments that have helped in our recovery efforts.

Foremost in my mind is the rebuilding our city's levee. Senator Holley played a key role in obtaining the state monies required to match the federal funding for the levee reconstruction. Today our levee is modern in terms of levee construction, built from proper materials, containing an impenetrable slurry wall, motorized gates, and pumping systems. In addition, a lighted walking trail is available for everyone's enjoyment.

Another improvement of great importance to our town is the four-laneing of Highway 84. Without Senator Holley's help this project likely could have bypassed Elba altogether. His insistence that this not happen ensured that Elba will not be cut off from major highway development.

I still have vivid memories of the destruction to our entire school system caused by the flood. Through his efforts and the assistance of others, Senator Holley insured that our children and grandchildren will have a state of the arts school to attend in Elba. Now our high school, elementary school, football stadium, baseball stadium and board of education are a crown jewel of which Elba can be proud.

I would like to extend a very well deserved thank you to Senator Holley. Where would our beloved city be if he had not been in the legislature? Senator Holley's 28 years of experience have helped to put many lives back together.

I sincerely hope his record will not go unnoticed when the polls open on June 6th. Sincerely,
Marion Brunson

Editor,

Supreme Court Tom Parker is careless, casual, slipshod and sloppy when it comes to his elected office, his campaign financing and his apparent worldview. It is difficult to pin him too deeply on his worldview because it continues to change.

push for The Ten Commandments to be displayed in the Alabama Supreme Court building. Now he says he won't push it.

Not long ago, he said he would never take campaign contributions in his 2004 campaign he completely failed to report. Almost no one believes him.

Nor is he wasting his time doing his job. While the rest of the court has been working cases and writing opinions, Parker is out campaigning. Parker said he hasn't writing opinions because he's a first-year judge and needs time to get into it. The other two first-year judges have written more than 60 opinions between them.

I hope Alabama voters will wake up to see that Parker is not the conservative he claims, but a radical wildman who can't keep his job, can't do his job and hobnobs with the greedy Alabama trial bar.

This man is actually seeking a promotion, which is just about the most ludicrous thing imaginable. Sincerely,

"An Evening of Dance, 2006" will be presented in the Opp High School Auditorium, Friday and Saturday evenings, June 2 and 3, at 8:00. This is the 53rd annual performance by students of The Dorothy Rainer Sellars School of Dance.

The program, entitled "Potpourri", will include a variety of tap styles and rhythms, a ballet waltz to music by Franz Lehár, and a character dance of Spanish rhythm.

National Tap Dance Day, May 25, is celebrated as the Senior Group dances to a medley of tunes made famous by Bill Robinson, the dancer who contributed so much to the finesse of tap dancing.

The Senior Group also dances the international tradition, "Shim Sham", as well as the school's traditional kick-line routine, "Chinatown". A notable feature of the 2006 performance will be the promotion of eleven apprentices to the Senior Group and a line of 22 dancers performing "Chinatown".

Special guest performers include the Rainer Twins, pianists in "A Piano Interlude", plus Genie (The Little Old Lady) Loggins and Trippy McGuire in a bit of slapstick comedy.

"An Evening of Dance, 2006" is presented by the Dorothy Rainer Sellars School of Dance, Elba students are: Sarah Bane, Katelyn Calhoun, Lindsey Carley, Isabel Carpenter, Krysten Dorsey, Emma Dorsey, Cornee Driggers, Molly McGuire, Lesley Smith, Lindsey Smith, Rachel Smith, Brooke Weeks, Paige Weeks, and Bethany Wilson. Another school year is in the books and that means when the girls head back next fall we will have a senior in college and a senior in high school. While it seems like the college senior has changed much more over the past few years than the youngest, at least I still get the chance to have them both at home for one more summer.

FOR WHAT IT IS WORTH....

 The Elba Tigers hosted Samson last week in a spring football game and posted a big 32-12 win. Junior High running back Stephen Magwood was the star of the night on offense as he gained over 150 yards and scored a touchdown in just one quarter of play, while over on defense Trey Belcher had three interceptions and teammate Bobby Hudson returned an interception for a score. There were a lot of dropped passes on offense and a couple of missed tackles on defense. However, all in all the Tigers showed they still knew how to win and gave their fans high hopes for next season.

 The Elba Tiger golf team saw its streak of three straight runner-up finishes at the State Golf Tournament end this season when it failed to qualify, but Tiger linkster Timothy Jackson did make the state tourney field and came home with All-State honors after placing third in individual competition. Jackson was the Tigers' #1 golfer all season and saved his best efforts for the final event of the year as he closed out an excellent high school career.

 The Zion Chapel Rebels posted a big 30-7 win over Kinston last week in a spring football game and made it clear they are still a team to watch in the 1A ranks. The Rebels were very physical on both sides of the football and used their running game to wear down the Bulldogs as the game went along. I know that spring football games don't count on a team's record, but for the Rebels the win was a great way to head into the off-season.

 The Kinston Lady Bulldogs competed at the Class 1A State Softball Tournament last weekend and placed third after posting two wins and two losses. The Lady Bulldogs won their first two games by one run in extra innings, then saw a win slip away in the finals of the winners bracket and couldn't get back up as they were eliminated in their next contest. The Kinston girls have played a lot of softball and won a lot of games this season, but I know the one that got away will haunt them until they get back on the field next spring.

 The youth baseball and softball seasons are beginning to wind down and there is already talk about who will and won't make the various all-star teams. I hope the parents will realize not everyone is an all-star and will support the coaches when they get together and try to pick the very best players in the leagues. It is not an easy job to pick only twelve players from a league. However, it is one that must be done and the parents and players should do their best to understand.

 In closing.... The Elba City pool is scheduled to open this weekend and that means plenty of fun for the kids in the area. The pool has been getting cleaned and primed up for the past two weeks and if everything goes according to plan it should be open for kids of all ages. Just remember, no matter how hot it gets the water is always wet and refreshing!

Elba Tigers roll past Samson 32-12

The Elba Tigers hosted the Samson Tigers Friday night in a spring football game and gave the hometown crowd plenty to cheer about as they rolled to a big 32-12 win, at Tiger Stadium.

The junior varsity teams hit the field for first quarter action and Samson jumped out to a quick 6-0 lead after recovering an Elba fumble and cashing in the scoring opportunity. Elba was down early, but responded with a scoring drive of its own and moved on top 8-6 on a touchdown run by Stephens Magwood and the two-point conversion.

The Elba JV extended its lead to 16-6 with only :03 remaining in the quarter on a touchdown dash by Sandarius Reed and a two-point conversion, and then handed things over the varsity for the next three quarters.

Gavin Respress completed a touchdown pass to Frank Morris on the first possession of the third quarter and the two-point try tipped the lead to 24-6, while Bobby Hudson had a long interception return for a touchdown only minutes later as Elba's lead grew to 32-6.

Samson scored late, but it made little difference except on the scoreboard as Elba easily held on and posted the 32-12 win.

Kinston Lady Bulldogs place third at 1A state softball tournament

The Kinston Lady Bulldogs competed in the Alabama High School Class 1A State Softball Tournament last weekend at Montgomery's Lagoon Park and posted a record of two wins and two losses to place third in the eight-team event.

"For us, this was our second trip to the state tournament and we finished third," stated Kinston's Coach Janie Wiggins. "You can't ask for much more than that. There were a lot of other teams that went home after the first day. We were so close. I really feel if we had won the first game against Waterloo we might have won the tournament. Their pitcher would have had to pitch another game and they meet us twice. I guess it just wasn't meant to be this year."

Following are highlights of the Lady Bulldogs four games at the state tournament:

Kinston 5 Lynn 4 - The Kinston Lady Bulldogs saw an early 3-0 lead vanish and then had to rally to pull out a 5-4 win in the opening round of the tournament.

Kinston owned a 3-0 lead through four innings and appeared to be headed to an easy win, only to see Lynn bunch together five straight hits in the fifth inning to go ahead 4-3. The Lady Bulldogs pulled even at 4-4 in the bottom of the sixth when Bethany Holley scored on a hit by Haley Spears, then pulled out the win in the bottom of the ninth when Whitney Hercus reached on a single and later scored on an RBI single by Christie Whigham.

Kaleigh Sanders was the winning pitcher in relief, while Whigham had 2 hits to lead Kinston at the plate.

Kinston 1 Athens Bible 0 - The Kinston Lady Bulldogs scored the game's only run in the bottom of the eighth inning

Free fishing day in Alabama set for June 10th in state's public waters

Each calendar year, the Commissioner of Conservation and Natural Resources designates a "Free Fishing Day" for the public to fish recreationally in public waters without a fishing license. Saturday, June 10, 2006, had been designated as this year's Free Fishing Day.

Approved by the Alabama Legislature, the law allows an annual free day of fishing when residents and non-residents may fish without a fishing license.

"Free Fishing Day is offered to introduce non-anglers to the sport of fishing and to remind former anglers of the fun they've been missing," said Stan Cook, Chief of Fisheries with the Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries Division.

AHSAA to move girls golf season back to spring beginning in 2007

The girls golf season, which was recently changed to a fall sport, has been moved back to the spring for the 2007 season, according to an announcement Wednesday by Dan Washburn, Executive Director of the Alabama High School Athletic Association.

The championship golf program for girls was shifted from the spring to the fall by the Central Board of Control in its meeting April 5. Since that time the Association's legal council has recommended that the girls' golf program remain a spring sport due to Title IX considerations.

"We felt it was a good move to enhance girls' golf," Washburn said, "but we did not intend to put the Board in a vulnerable position concerning Title IX."

Girls' golf, which currently has competition in one division, was shifted from the busy, six-

In spring football action

Zion Chapel rolls past Kinston Bulldogs 30-7

By Scott Johnson

The Kinston Bulldogs traveled North to take on the Zion Chapel Rebels Friday night in a spring football jamboree that highlighted action at both the varsity and junior varsity level. The junior high players took the field in the first half, followed by the varsity squads in the second half, and at the final horn the Rebels walked off the field with a 30-7 win.

While the scoreboard stated one team had won and the other had lost, for those of us who had not been able to watch a high school football game since last fall, there were really no losers!

Kinston's JV put the ball in play at its own 35-yardline, and after a big completion from Gavin Free to Brian Lassiter was wiped out by a penalty flag, the Bulldogs failed to move the chains and punted.

Zion Chapel's Daniel Powell took a handoff for a 23-yard gain to set the Rebels up with a first down in Kinston territory, but on the next play the possession ended when Kinston's Wesley Burton recovered a Rebel fumble.

Gavin Free returned to the air on the Bulldogs next possession and completed short passes to Brian Lassiter and Ludger Boswell. However, the completion failed to reach the first down marker and Zion Chapel regained possession at the mid-field stripe.

Zion Chapel's Garret Stinson got the call on the Rebels' next two plays, and after a 9-yard dash on first down, the Rebel running back broke loose and scampered 41 yards for a touchdown. Zach Senn took a pitch-out and scooted around the right end for a two-point conversion and Zion Chapel was on the scoreboard with an 8-0 lead.

Kinston responded following the Rebel score and drove deep into Zion Chapel territory, Aaron Rachel and Brian Lassiter both had short runs to keep the drive alive, while Ludger Boswell moved the chains when he pulled in a pass at the Zion Chapel 41-yardline. A fumble and a penalty backed the Bulldogs up, but Boswell pulled in another first down aerial to keep the drive alive and two plays later pulled in a Gavin Free pass to set the 'Dogs up first down and ten at the Zion Chapel 20. The scoring threat went by the board; however, when the Rebels' Tanner Grant pounced on a Bulldog bobble.

A 16-yard pass from Aaron Jacobs to Charlie Hercus and a 35-yard run by Erick Odom got the Bulldogs on the scoreboard, while Nick Weeks split the up-rights on the extra-point to pull the Bulldogs within 30-7.

Kinston regained possession late on a fumble recovery by Jonathan Edwards and the Bulldogs headed back down-field on a scramble by Aaron Jacobs. However, the Bulldogs ran out of time and at the final horn Zion Chapel left the field with the 30-7 win.

Both coaches were complimentary after the game, as Kinston's Coach Larry Conney stated "Our effort was there and we played a lot of kids in a lot of positions," while Zion Chapel's Coach Harry Lees said "I thought our guys really got after it and we played physical."

The game's next two possessions failed to produce points, but did include some big plays as Zion Chapel's Hunter Wise had a scoring run wiped out by a penalty and Erick Odom had a big gain for the Bulldogs.

Zion Chapel got back on the scoreboard late in the third quarter on a 53-yard dash by Steison Petty as the Rebels' advantage grew to 30-0, while the remainder of the game was dominated by the Bulldogs on both sides of the ball.

A 16-yard pass from Aaron Jacobs to Charlie Hercus and a 35-yard run by Erick Odom got the Bulldogs on the scoreboard, while Nick Weeks split the up-rights on the extra-point to pull the Bulldogs within 30-7.

Fluorocarbon fishing line can improve your catch

When fluorocarbon fishing line first came out, I thought it must have little strands of gold interwoven in it because of its price. Like color televisions and other things that started off sky high, the price of fluorocarbon fishing line is now within reach of the average angler.

A chemist I'm not, but a friend with a line manufacturer advises me that the reason fluorocarbon line is such a boon to today's anglers is because of its' refractive index. This is the amount of light that is bent while passing through an object. Since fluorocarbon line has a refractive index almost identical to water, the line is almost invisible to fish.

The near invisibility of fluorocarbon line makes it excellent for any fishing, but it is especially good for fishing clear waters. Fisherman fishing for trout or small mouth bass in clear water find this line ideal for these situations. Farm ponds clarity can vary greatly with the amount of runoff and fertilizer, and they can become quite clear at times, too. The nearly invisible fluorocarbon line may just be that bit extra that will fool that ten pounder into biting your offering.

Since fluorocarbon line is almost invisible, anglers can move up to heavier line than they could get by with in more conventional lines. It is also abrasion resistant and sensitive to a strike. The sink rate is three to four times faster than regular monofilament.

Nylon lines can absorb water, making them weaker. Not so with fluorocarbon, as it does not absorb water. It is also more resistant to ultraviolet light.

Fluorocarbon is especially good when fishing in strong current where the ultimate in sensitive line is needed to feel a strike. The low stretch factor also makes hook setting easier. It is ideal when you need to get lightweight bait down quickly. The high abrasion resistance is also ideal for fishing rocky or riprap areas.

With all its' virtues, there are a few areas where special attention is a must when fishing fluorocarbon line. For one thing it is hard to see where it enters the water, especially for aging eyes. Knots slipping can be a problem sometimes because this line is so hard and slick. They must be wet and pulled up tight on the hook or bait before use.

Fishermen using spinning reels will have to deal with "line memory" when using fluorocarbon line. Since it is so stiff it can spill off a spinning reel creating a tangle. One way around this is to stick with fluorocarbon line under 14 lb. test and don't fill the spool as full as when using regular monofilament line. Fisherman using bait casting rigs won't have this problem.

Fluorocarbon line is not perfect, but it may be just what you need if you are after that elusive giant bass in a clear water pond or reservoir.

Elba Firefighters "fired up" to help MDA

Firefighters across Alabama will participate in a fund-raiser called "Fill-the-Boot" during Memorial Day weekend to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Elba firefighters will be at major intersections on Highway 84 and Highway 87 on Saturday, May 27, with their boots so that motorists may give their dollars and change in an effort to help their firefighters in their support of MDA.

Last year during the Fill-the-Boot program, Elba firefighters raised $2,800 for the South Alabama District of MDA. Other participating fire stations include, Union, Non-Union and Volunteer firefighters.

The proceeds will be used locally to provide services for individuals with neuromuscular diseases, including MDA clinics, support groups, and assistance with the purchase of medical equipment.

The Fill-the-Boot efforts will also help fund vital research to find cures for over 43 neuromuscular diseases, and help support the local MDA's Summer Camp ASCCA in Jackson Gap, Ala. MDA receives no government funding and charges no fees to those we serve or their families.

Because conservatives know trial lawyer money funds liberal causes like gambling, gay marriage and abortion.

Liberal trial lawyers are trying to pay for a promotion for Tom Parker even though he's got the lowest productivity rating on the court.

Ask Tom Parker why the trial lawyers who sue our employers, teachers, friends and neighbors like him so much.

What do they know about Tom Parker that we don't?

JOE SAWYER GOT HIS WAY,
AND NOW CRIMINALS ARE BACK ON THE STREETS.

As a trial lawyer, Joe Sawyer has worked to put criminals back on the street.

Joe Sawyer's clients include 12 drug dealers charged with Trafficking of Methamphetamine and Unlawful Manufacturing of a Controlled Substance.

Thanks to Joe Sawyer, 7 of them are back on the street.

In 2001, a 54-year-old man was charged with sexually molesting an 11 year-old girl.

This child molester was charged with 1st Degree Sexual Abuse and released on $50,000 bond. While back on the streets, he continued to stalk his young victim against court orders. After writing her love letters and even taking her shopping, he was arrested once again.

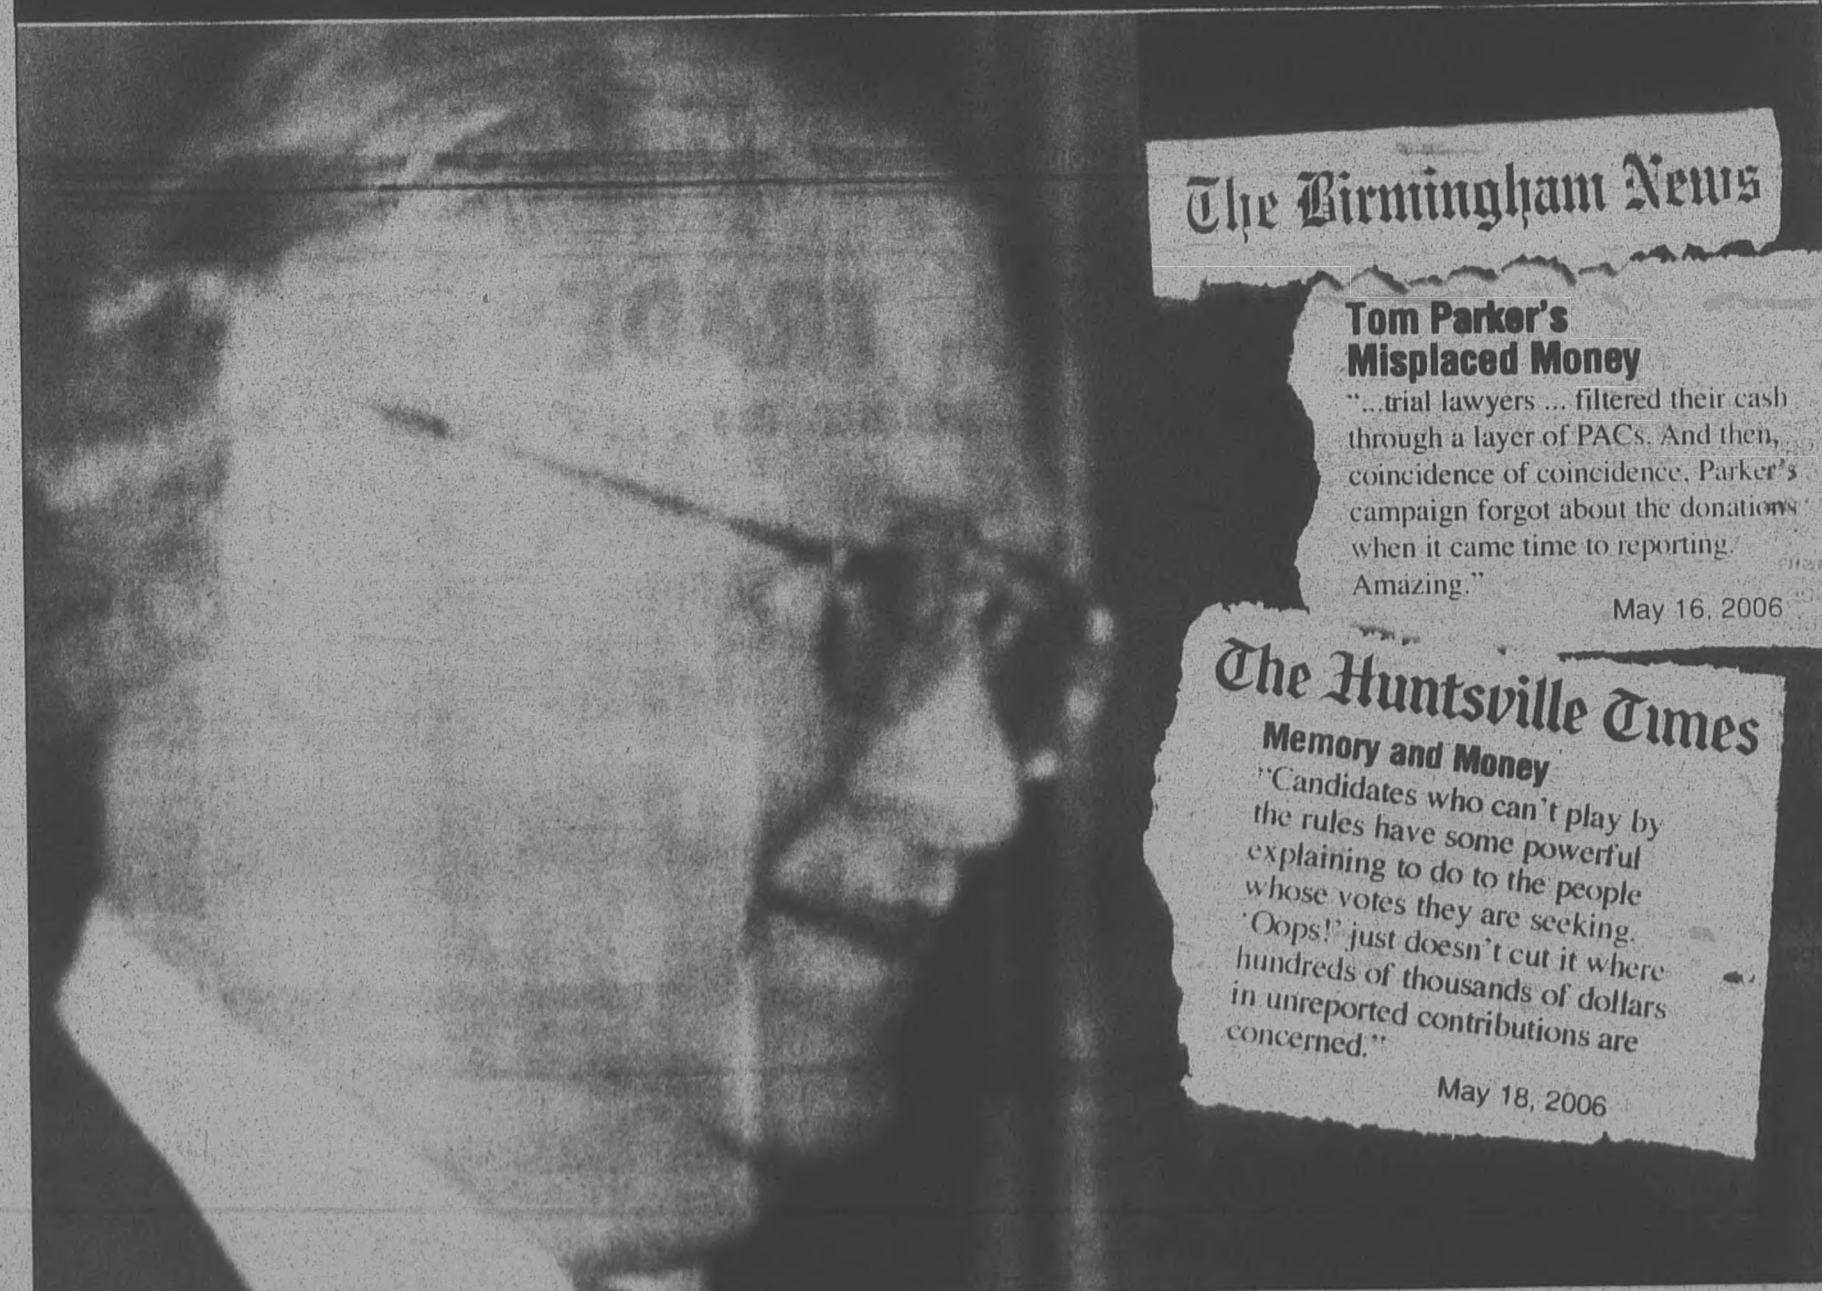

His lawyer today? Joe Sawyer.

Two days after qualifying to run for the State Senate, Sawyer took on another campaign - to get this child molester back on the street.

Sexual predators.
Drug dealers.
That's who Joe Sawyer makes money fighting for.

IT'S TIME YOU KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT JOE SAWYER.

Misplaced Money

Memory and Money

"Candidates who can't play by the rules have some powerful explaining to do to the people whose votes they are seeking. 'Oops!' just doesn't cut it where hundreds of thousands of dollars in unreported contributions are concerned."

the playground project can move forward as soon as this work is finished.

Mayor James Grimes scheduled a council workshop for 5:30 p.m. on Monday, June 5, at City Hall.

Grimes also updated council members on the progress toward getting Dorsey Trailers operating again. He predicted the new company would be hiring within a few months after cleaning, repairing and updating the plant.

The council agreed to a request to again install lights in the Mulberry park area. Each year this is done, and the lights, meter box, bathrooms are destroyed by vandals before the next year, according to the mayor. Grimes urged the citizens of that area to take pride and report these things when they are happening. He added it is hard to keep spending taxpayers money and then see it destroyed time and time again.

Commissioner voted unanimously to approve the motion made by Westbrook.

Revenue Commissioner Ronnie Burns also attended Monday's meeting to discuss the supernumerary issue regarding retired revenue commissioners.

Burns said a bill was passed by the legislature and signed by the governor in February allowing for the removal of a cap for supernumeraries. He said he will be the last supernumerary to hold the office in Coffee County, and the cap was set some 30 years ago at approximately $49,600.

If he retired now, Burns said he's old enough that he probably would never reach that cap, but if he did, he would like the opportunity to receive the retirement funds he is due.

Burns said the bill passed both the House and Senate without any opposition, and he said he is asking the commission to approve it so he will be able to get the retirement he feels he is due.

In other business, Coffee County Emergency Management Agency director John Tallas reminded commissioners this week is Alabama Hurricane Preparedness Week. With forecasters predicting another active hurricane season this year, he said now is the time to start thinking about plans and preparedness.

The next meeting of the Coffee County Commission will be Monday, June 12, at 9 a.m. in the community room of the county complex in New Brockton.
